Access Group Launches Redesigned Web Site

WILMINGTON, DE —Borrowers who visit AccessGroup.Org to obtain student loan information or to apply for a student loan will enjoy a new experience with the launch of the redesigned Web site. Access Group, the nonprofit graduate loan specialist, has provided access to graduate and professional student loans for more than 20 years.

“By incorporating feedback from usability studies, we have created a site specifically designed to improve the online experience for our customers,” said Daniel R. Lau, Access Group’s President and CEO. “Those who visit the new AccessGroup.Org will find a content-rich site that provides the information schools and student borrowers need, along with new features, streamlined navigation, and an easy-to-use format.”

Updated features include an enhanced online application that cuts completion time by 50%, and a “Student Loan Finder” that helps borrowers find the loans that best fit their needs. A newly designed “My Account” section provides application status information and recommends actions borrowers can take to reduce processing time. It also allows Access Group serviced borrowers to make online payments, as well as view loan balances, accrued interest, and payment history.

This Web site redesign is just one of Access Group’s current initiatives designed to improve customer service and satisfaction. Visit AccessGroup.Org to learn more.
